

OCM Product Return Policy Updated 5/16/2024

Products that can be returned to OCM include:

- All OCM Hardware stock products.
- Manufactured product that is also stocked by OCM.

Products that cannot be returned to OCM include:

- Special manufactured product that is not also stocked by OCM.
- Damaged product. Examples include physical product damage, rusty product, wet/damaged boxes.
- Waterstop products like Adeka and Bentoswell due to shelf life issues.
- Returns of larger quantities that result in more than 3 months of inventory on hand.
- Aluminum form ties.
- Returns greater than $5000.

All returns must have an RMA (Returned Material Authorization) number provided by OCM before the product can be shipped back to any OCM location.

All returns require pictures of the product and the packaging from the customer before any return will be approved. In some cases, video of the product in use may also be required before any return will be approved.

All returns that “show up” without the RMA and pictures will result in paperwork processing delays and/or possible refusal of credit. OCM will no longer accept customer statements like, “The OCM rep or salesperson said we could just ship it back.”

All returns initiated/requested by the customer must deliver to OCM in Grayslake, IL or Denver, CO where they can be received, reviewed, and finalized in an orderly manner. Customer return requests resulting from claims of faulty/out of spec product must first have samples returned to Grayslake, IL for quality control inspection and a corresponding report before a complete return will be approved. Often, a return can be avoided if a different component product can be replaced timely by OCM. Returns that are the result of an OCM order entry or shipping error may be returned the original shipping location at no charge to the customer.

Customer pays all freight associated with returns back to the location designated and communicated by OCM (Grayslake, IL or Denver, CO) unless it is determined that the return resulted from an OCM error or product that is confirmed by OCM to be faulty/out of spec.

Some returns initiated/requested by the customer may deliver to the original OCM shipping location if the product is in its original packaging without loss or damage and can be put back into stock immediately. Approval must be granted by the OCM Regional Sales Manager.

All returns are subject to review upon receipt by OCM to determine resale capability. If product is deemed unsellable, that product will not be eligible for credit. All lost and damaged product will be deducted from final credit amount.

Standard restock fee is 25%. Exceptions may be approved by the OCM Regional Sales Manager and may include restock fees greater than 25% based on the amount of repackaging and time involved to return all materials to a sellable condition (skids, boxes, wrapping, etc).
